32,505 clients reached via tabling events at food pantries, and recipe and nutrition information distribution at Foodshare mobile pantry sites

17,345 participants reached via work with community partners, including WIC, Charter Oak Health Center, public elementary and middle schools, and senior sites

10,447 preschoolers and parents reached via educational lessons at school and nutrition information sent home with preschoolers

106 participants reached via nutrition education for school-age children and adults in partnership with FoodCorps, Cooking Matters, and grocery stores

224 children and adolescents reached via tailored health messages on nutrition and physical activity in an urban pediatric hospital

9,470 pageviews via fact-based food and nutrition information, recipes, and videos posted to the UConn Healthy Family CT website and social media platforms (Facebook, Instagram, Twitter)

---

This material was funded by USDA’s Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP).
This institution is an equal opportunity provider.